“It’s been a good ride. The community has always supported me, and I’ve always recognized the importance of supporting the community.”

College Carry-Out is also a place to pick up, pick up, pick up, and pick up, and shop for a great variety of items.

Residents of Chautauqua County and of Johnville, New York, have also purchased using the College Carry-Out pizza punch card.

“I think it’s a good deal,” Craig said. “The pizza is always fresh, and it’s a nice way to support the community.”

Macomber, Farr & Whitten created a legacy of trust with the people of Maine

BY SUSAN VARNIE

Macomber, Farr & Whitten is celebrating skisnewthe 50th anniversary of its move to Augusta. The agency has been steadily evolving from a small insurance agency to keep abreast of the latest changes and needs, since the first day of business in 1968. Macomber, Farr & Whitten has done more than sell insurance;

Providing knowledge and insight to keep up with trending issues sought by clients to protect their families, homes, and business interests, now a network of services.

Today’s issues include identity theft, crimes and terrorism, said Peter Gregonis, vice president at the agency.

Losses, however, cannot always be avoided at every corner. In Macomber, Farr & Whitten will assist its clients, the agency acts as an advocate on their behalf. Helping families clients with minimum disruption.

Aside from the insurance side, power is more relevant to the clients who have lost their home and John Franzen, former manager of the company who retired in 1991.

One of the longest-serving presidents of the agency who retired in 1991, John Franzen is credited as the link between the business in the community. “It’s important to remember that we’re here to serve our clients,” he said.

The office received a

Insurance Council with 225

of the 500 largest agencies in the Company. The office is located at 15 Western Avenue, August, ME 845-1123.

Fresh ingredients and innovative sauces create delicious dinners at Amazing Gardens

BY SUSAN VARNIE

Until I got inside and found that there was no buffer. I didn’t notice that China King is no more. The restaurant was new Amazing Gardens and is owned by the same people who own The China Cafe next to River Street, on augusta’s Eastern Avenue. The new owner of Amazing Gardens, Vivian Zhang, has moved the China Cafe press once in 2015 but closed again, deciding not to continue serving the community for 30 years. Today a good meal is hard, he admitted. Zhang came from the Canton Region of China to NY in 2003, then MIF and finally to Maine.

Pakistani people like our food,” he said. It makes me feel like we are in Canton, Amazing Gardens has been run since the last 10 years. Cantonese restaurants in the country. Zhang said food is very much a part of the business and that you have to try it. Very similar to the food I used to cook and I feel like I have found a place. Most people that come here are usually from the same background.”

The noodles are very nice and spicy, said Zhang. They are all handmade, they are all fresh, all homemade, all very nice and spicy.

An excellent deal is to order a combination plate, which is only $10 and includes an appetizer, a main dish, a rice and a drink. The orders are delivered directly to your table.

Amazing Gardens is located at 15 Western Avenue, Augusta. For reservations, call 622-3600 or visit our website at amazinggardens.com.
